200,000th PRESCRIPTION FILLED AT CO-OP PHARMACY
Mrs. Mary LaLonde, 2-C Southway Road, Greenbelt, receives a record player awarded with prescription 200,000 filled at the Co-op Pharmacy, next to the Co-op Super Store in Greenbelt. Pharmacist Oscar Potash makes the award.

UGF Drive Nears 50%

As the United Givers Fund Drive goes into its fourth week, the local Chairman, Mrs. Charles T. McDonald, reports returns amounting to about 50% of quota.

Your favorite charity is no doubt covered by the imposing list of 142 different health, welfare and multi-service agencies included in UGF, like Red Cross, Salvation Army, Help for Retarded Children, Mental Health, Hospitalization and Clinic Care, Children's Homes, Family and Child Welfare Agencies, Homes for Aged, Visiting Nurse Service, and many others.

While some workers were very successful, others were not and would still be pleased to receive additional donations. The following workers have already made complete or partial returns: Shirley Dwyer, Doris Kaskeski, Nora Hammersla, Aileen Wells, Dorothy Pehl, Pat San Antonio, Mary Fitzmaurice, Mary Jane Kinzer, Mary O'Neill, Mollie Burns, Frances Herling, Ann Jarvis, Helen Starnes, Clyde Dupree, Elizabeth Love, Margaret Kincius, Alice Dykes, Evelyn Barcus, Elaine Bernstein, Dorothea Wisman, Peg Baldwin, Elizabeth Iseli, Dorothy Galvin, Mrs. Hugo Capotosto, Margaret Bowen, Ann Carrick, Louise Lee, Frances Aulisio, Betty Kelly, Barbara Werner, Ethel Rosenzweig, Bernadette Johnston, Mrs. V. Wilkinson, Jean Schneider, Florence Tredwell, Alberta Tompkins, Mrs. Donald Kern, Mrs. Wm. Many, Mrs. Edwin Jordan, Mrs. Wm. Cooper, R. Fisher, Bernice Brautigam, Ann Hickey, Mrs. Richard Hoffman, Mary Evanovsky, Jean deBethizy, Mrs. George Townsend, and Mrs. Alfred Sarni.

Great Books Group

The Greenbelt—Mt. Rainier Great Books Discussion Group will discuss Virgil's Aeneid Thursday, Nov. 6, at 8 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Duane Emme, 2707 Webster st., Mt. Rainier. Anyone desiring transportation from Greenbelt or vicinity is asked to call George Reeves, GR. 4-9484. Participation is open to all.

The group, now in its fifth year of discussions, meets on the 1st and 3rd Thursday of each month. At its last meeting, held at Center School, it voted to hold future meetings in the homes of participants.

Another group, organized this year, meets at Center School on the 2nd and 4th Thursdays.

Beware Seasonal Fire Hazards, Mogel Warns

Referring to the recent fire at the Delta Tau Delta fraternity house at George Washington University, which resulted in two deaths, Fire Marshal Robert W. Mogel warns Greenbelt residents to be particularly careful at this time of flammable decorations. Many seasonal decorations, like corn shocks and leaves, which are suitable to Halloween and autumn, are classic examples of flash fire sources, he points out.

Candles in pumpkins carried by children should be particularly avoided, Mogel warns, since children's costumes are often highly flammable.

Anyone with a problem concerning decorations and fire safety is urged to call the fire department for advice and assistance. "We will be very happy to offer any help we can muster," Mogel promised, "in order to prevent the need of calling out the apparatus and men to the scene of loss and destruction which would have been avoided if we had been previously consulted."

Band Parents Elect

Mrs. Imogene J. McCarthy, 6-J Ridge rd., was elected president of the Greenbelt Community Band at the annual membership meeting.

The other newly elected officers are: Vice-President, Mr. Joseph O'Brien; Treasurer, Mr. Samuel Mintz; Secretary, Mrs. Helen Hoffendick; Wardrobe Chairman, Mrs. Eleanor Hooven.

The retiring officers are: Vice President, Mr. Alan Blair; Treasurer, Mr. Lawrence Goldberg; Secretary, Mrs. Imogene McCarthy.

The Greenbelt Band has a membership of 25 young people under the leadership of Mr. Don Smith, who also directs the High Point Band. New members are always welcome to join the band. Rehearsals are held weekly on Monday evenings at 7 p.m. in the Center School auditorium.

Measles in Town

Since there are a considerable number of red measles cases in town, it is advisable for parents to check their children before sending them to school. Mrs. Plackett, Public Health nurse, feels it would be best to keep children home if there are signs of a temperature and cold.

Election Day Tuesday

About 2,600 Greenbelt residents will be eligible to vote in the General Election, next Tuesday, Nov. 4. The polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. at the Center school.

Voters are reminded that they are eligible to vote if they have participated in any Greenbelt General Election in the last five years.

Of special interest to Greenbelt voters is the bid of former city mayor Frank J. Lastner for re-election to a 4-year term as county commissioner. He is running on the Democratic slate, along with three other incumbent commissioners, Jesse S. Baggett, A. Preston Perrie, and Herbert W. Reichelt, and one newcomer, M. Bayne Brooke. They will be opposed by a Republican slate consisting of Samuel R. Acuff, John W. Fincham, Jr., Thomas E. Latimer, E. Forrest Warner, and Edward J. Waters.

In addition to the county commissioners, Greenbelt voters will cast ballots for Statewide candidates for the office of Governor, Attorney General, Comptroller, and U. S. Senator. Vying for the Governorship are Democrat J. Millard Taves and Republican James P. Devereux. The contest for Attorney General is between Democrat C. Ferdinand Sybert and Republican Robert A. Wallace. Democrat Louis L. Goldstein and Republican John A. Deer are the opponents for the Comptrollership.

The battle for the U. S. Senate seat is being waged between incumbent Republican J. Glenn Beall and Democrat Thomas D'Alesandro, Jr. Another Congressional contest being fought is between incumbent Democrat Richard E. Lankford, seeking his third term as Representative from the Fifth Congressional District, and challenger Robert E. Ennis.

On the county level, Greenbelt residents will also choose a State Senator and six members for the State House of Delegates. Other county offices being contested are Register of Wills, State's Attorney, County Treasurer, Sheriff, and Judges of the Orphans Court.

Election officials urge citizens to vote during the day before the evening rush. Under election rules, voters waiting in line at 7 p.m. are permitted to vote but any voters joining the waiting line after that time may not be able to vote.

GHI Policy of Prepaying City's Taxes Questioned, to be Studied

By Al Skolnik

Greenbelt Homes, Inc. has decided to reexamine its practice of prepaying city real estate taxes. At the October 23 meeting of the GHI board of directors, the question arose whether such a practice was still justifiable in light of the rapid residential expansion of Greenbelt.

Since Jan., 1953 when it took over the project from the Federal government, GHI has helped the city through the lean months of the year by prepaying taxes. These taxes, amounting to $90,000-$100,000 per year, are due Oct. 1 and have been customarily prepaid at a rate of $10,000 a month, thus avoiding the necessity of the city's borrowing money. Before 1953, the Federal government made monthly contributions to the city in lieu of taxes.

The question facing the board was whether interest received on the amounts that would otherwise be prepaid for taxes would be more than the additional taxes that might be levied against the co-op to cover the cost of the city's borrowing of funds in its lean months. As long as GHI members constituted the bulk of Greenbelt citizenry, it did not seem to make much difference how this matter was treated.

With the expansion of Greenbelt, however, some board members felt that the burden of prepaying taxes should now be borne by all citizens and not just GHI members. At the very least, it was argued, GHI should charge the city nominal interest or obtain a discount on the prepaid taxes.

The board authorized management to prepare a report for the next meeting summarizing the pros and cons and the exact fiscal amounts involved. It also directed management to consult with city officials, so that their views would be included in the report.

Land Development

GHI manager John O. Walker disclosed some preliminary comments of GHI attorneys, Krooth and Altman, on the proposed development of the North End tract as a project of 4-bedroom housing units. The attorneys pointed out that processing costs (legal fees, financing costs, paper work) on FHA-mortgaged property can be pretty excessive unless spread over a broader base than the proposed 24 units. They suggested that GHI consider developing other land at the same time so as to reduce the per unit costs. Among the parcels of undeveloped land owned by GHI are those located between Plateau and Laurel Hill rd., adjacent to the Administration Building on Hamilton pl., and behind 73 Ridge.

Rezoning

It was disclosed that the county commissioners have approved the rezoning from rural residential to R-10 apartment dwelling of the property bordering Crescent rd. between the service station and the Parkways apartment. The same zoning was approved for the tract of land between Parkway Apartments 1-7 and 9-13, now partly occupied by the brick garages.

Americana-type apartments, ranging in rent from $80 up, are expected to be constructed on these parcels of land by the well-known builder, Dan Ostrow.

Last Minute Looks At Election Campaign

As the election campaign enters the final stages, independent observers predict that the Democratic ticket will probably gain a clean sweep in Greenbelt in the voting next Tuesday, Nov. 4.

They foresee the Democratic county slate registering a margin of victory in excess of the 2½ to 1 vote rolled up in Greenbelt 4 years ago. Top vote gatherer on the county ticket is expected to be former Greenbelt mayor Frank J. Lastner who is running for re-election as county commissioner. In 1954, Lastner pulled 1,192 votes in Greenbelt or about 78 percent of the votes cast.

Of the Statewide candidates, Democratic gubernatorial candidate J. Millard Tawes is expected to lead the ticket. Four years ago, Greenbelt voters gave the Democratic candidate Harry C. Byrd a 941-532 margin over Governor Theodore R. McKeldin, but Byrd lost the election by over 60,000 votes. Democrats expect Tawes to do better in Greenbelt this year, exceeding the 64-percent majority Byrd received.

Republicans expect incumbent Republican Senator J. Glenn Beall, running for his second term against the Democratic challenger Thomas D'Alesandro, to be their top vote-getter. In 1952, when Beall was first elected, he trailed the Democratic candidate George P. Mahoney by 1080 to 887 in Greenbelt, but won Statewide by over 40,000 votes. In the 1956 Senatorial contest, Greenbelt gave aspirant Mahoney 65.3 percent of the 2,048 votes cast, but he still lost to incumbent Republican Senator John Marshall Butler by over 50,000 votes. If the Greenbelt vote is a fair bellwether of State sentiment, then Democratic chances for carrying the State this year for D'Alesandro would seem to be dimmed by a Democratic majority of less than 65 percent in Greenbelt.

Representative Richard E. Lankford, seeking a third term to Congress, is expected to have no difficulty in amassing a huge vote in Greenbelt over Republican challenger Robert E. Ennis. The following table shows how Lankford has increased his majority in Greenbelt each year since 1952.

Year	Rep.	Dem. Maj. (percent)
1952	1136
1954	965
1956	1446
839	57.5
486	66.5
620	70.0

In 1952, Lankford lost the Fifth Congressional District by about 1,000 votes. His victories in 1954 and 1956 were by 8,000 and 11,000 votes, respectively. This would indicate that unless Republicans can keep Lankford's majority to below 60 percent in Greenbelt, they cannot expect an Ennis victory.

Registration in Greenbelt favors the Democrats. Of the approximately 2,600 eligible voters, 69 percent are registered Democratic, 23 percent Republican, and 8 percent Independent. What proportion of the eligibles will vote is uncertain. In the presidential election of 1956, only about 70 percent of the eligible voters cast ballots. In the off-year elections, the number of persons voting is usually smaller than in presidential years.

High Point High Points

By Marion Ryss

High Point "Eagles," all rested up from their smashing victory against Northwestern last Friday, will take on Bladensburg High School Friday, Oct. 31. Winning this game will mean a trophy for the "Eagles," so it should prove to be a close and exciting game. Performing at the half-time show will be both the High Point and the Bladensburg bands.

Bladensburg's Junior Varsity team will be playing High Point's JV on Thursday, Oct. 30 at High Point's field. This will be the second home game of the season so all of High Point will be on hand to root the team to victory. We hope they will set an example for the mighty "Eagles" to follow on Friday.

In order to become teachers, all seniors who are majoring in Education in College, must first be student teachers. High Point has 7 of these seniors, who are all students at Maryland University. They will attend classes at High Point until Dec. 19.

In a very short time High Point will have its first track field. The construction of this field has been going on since last year, and at last the track team will no longer have to go to Northwestern's field in order to practice. This is just another step toward a bigger and better high school.

High Point was very fortunate recently in having as guest speaker a Buddhist Monk. He spoke to the Interfaith Club and all their guests. This was just one of the many programs of the Interfaith Club. The sponsor of this club is Mrs. Sally Geoghan, history teacher. Members are students of all faiths.

"Pot Luck Dinners" are no more; instead they will be called by a new name. The High Point PTA is starting to plan a "Teachers Recognition Night" (a "Pot Luck Dinner" by another name). Get your appetites ready and stand by for further information. Meanwhile, circle Nov. 18.

TWIN PINES JUNIORS

On Saturday, Oct. 25, the first Junior Membership meeting of the Twin Pines Savings and Loan Association was held at the Twin Pines office. A temporary Junior Board of the following people was chosen:

Jack Webb
Barbara Bowman
Elise Geller
Barbara Geller
Bobby Cassels

We talked about seeing a film at 2 p.m., Nov. 15. The name is "The Gooliba Tree." We decided to have some Eskimopies for refreshments. We are going to have a poster contest starting Oct. 31 at Twin Pines. The first prize is $3.00, the second prize is $2.00, and the third prize is $1.00. The Junior Board will be the judges for the posters. The end of the contest is Nov. 30. All Greenbelt children are invited to see the movie and enter the poster contest.

Three Junior Board members will attend the Senior Board meeting to tell what we did at the first meeting of Junior Members.

BAPTIST NEWS

Members and friends of the Greenbelt Baptist Church will hold another covered dish supper on Wednesday evening, Nov. 5, at 6 p.m. in the Center School social room. After the supper the regular midweek service will be conducted.

A plan to hold a covered dish supper in connection with the midweek service on the first Wednesday evening of the month began in Oct. in the belief that the informal gathering would stimulate fellowship. The deaconesses are in charge of arrangements.

NOTRE DAME DE NAMUR

The Notre Dame de Namur Alumnae Association's first social event of the season will be a card party and dance on Friday Nov. 14, in the Williamsburg and Jefferson Rooms of the Mayflower.

Catherine J. Kenny is general chairman, assisted by Mrs. Raymond J. Barrett, Clare Dunn, Mary E. Herlihy, Mrs. Joseph P. Mulroe, Teresa A. Shives and Mrs. Vincent P. Wintermyer, Jr.

BLACKTOP SIDEWALKS

To the Editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to agree with the people on Plateau pl. The blacktop sidewalks are unsightly and it does track in to the house.

I can't understand how this could be cheaper than concrete over a period of years. Ours had been down less than a week when it started coming up. (One piece that came up is 5 inches square.) Since it comes up so quickly and easily, how is it more economical?

If all the people that are complaining to each other about it would complain to the management, maybe we could get the sidewalks repaired with concrete.

North End Book Fair

The North End PTA will hold its regular membership meeting Wednesday evening, Nov. 5, at 8:15 p.m. in the school auditorium. The principal speaker will be Miss Louise MacDiarmid, head of the Children's section of the Prince Georges County Library, who will discuss recreational reading for children.

The meeting will highlight the PTA's annual book fair, which is scheduled for Nov. 3, 5, 6, 7, 10, and 11. A representative of World Book Co. will be present at the Wednesday night meeting. During the week a large selection of books for children of all ages from pre-school to Junior High will be on display in the school auditorium from 3:30 to 5 p.m. The exhibit will also be open to the public from 7 to 10 p.m. on Wednesday and Friday evenings, Nov. 5 and 7. As in previous years, a discount of 10% will be offered on sales of all books. This is an excellent opportunity to start your Christmas shopping.

Magazine subscriptions will be available also.

The Book Fair will start Monday with the children using their library periods to browse for books they would like to have their parents buy. On Wednesday, Nov. 5 at 11 a.m. children in the primary grades will hear Mrs. Marjorie Fribourg, teacher and author of children's books. At 1 p.m. the upper grades will hear Will Barker conservationist and author of children's books.

The Book Fair will be open to the public Nov. 11 (Veteran's Day) from 10 to 5 p.m. to give interested fathers an opportunity to look at and buy more books. Your support will be appreciated.

Kelmscott Chaucer

A facsimile of the William Morris Kelmscott Chaucer, with the original eighty-seven drawings by Edward Burne-Jones, is being published by the World Publishing Company. The Kelmscott Chaucer containing the complete works of Geoffrey Chaucer is the masterpiece of the Kelmscott Press and is considered to be next to the Gutenberg Bible the outstanding typographic achievement of all time.

The Kelmscott Chaucer was published in 1896, in a limited edition of 425 copies. The World facsimile edition is a faithful reproduction, slightly reduced in size, of the original, and contains the complete original text and all the drawings, woodcut initials, and borders of the original work. There is an introduction by John T. Winterich, and a glossary for the modern reader. The binding is a replica of the original famous pigskin binding designed by William Morris and executed at the Doves Bindery. 576 pages; size 8 3/4 x 13 x 2 1/2 inches; $17.50.

Unadulterated Courage

On a cold October morning in 1864, two tiny wooden launches crept up the Roanoke River toward the mighty ironclad Albemarle, the Confederate ship that had the Union fleet at its mercy. Their commander was Lt. William Cushing and his mission was to destroy the warship and, if possible, escape. With his torpedo launched and heading straight for the Albemarle, Cushing looked up at the ironclad's deck less than ten feet away and straight into the muzzle of an eight-inch gun. He could hear the command of the gunnery officer to fire... LINCOLN'S COMMANDO, published by Pyramid Books, is the breathtaking story of the courageous and dashing officer whom Admiral Farragut called "the hero of the War." His spectacular feat in sinking the Albemarle on that grim morning lives in the annals of naval history as one of the boldest ventures ever attempted. In telling the story of their intrepid hero, co-author Ralph J. Roske and Charles Van Doren (TV's celebrated "Twenty-One" winner) have recreated a thrilling chapter in the history of the Civil War which the New York Times calls "action packed... vivid, vital and vivacious."

Publishing Notes

In a recent issue, Cosmopolitan Magazine carried an interesting article about the money today's authors are making from their novels — largely from the subsidiary rights. These rights — paperback reprinting, motion picture and stage productions, and serialization and syndication — often reach astronomical proportions. Out of the eight "richest writers," four are currently published by Bantam Books: Edna Ferber (ONE BASKET and CIMARRON), Max Shulman (RALLY ROUND THE FLAG, BOYS!), Rod Serling (PAT-TERNS), and William Gibson (THE COBWSB). The four other richest authors are Grace Metalious, Sloan Wilson, Herman Wouk, and Jean Kerr.

Cosmopolitan also lists "The Best Novels of Our Time" as selected by Bergen Evans. Of the twenty novels, seven have been published as Bantam Books: BRAVE NEW WORLD, ALL THE KING'S MEN, THE HEART OF THE MATTER, THE GRAPES OF WRATH, BABBIT, and THE SUN ALSO RISES. The other novels listed are: "An American Tragedy," "The Counterfeiters," "I, Claudius," "The Magic Mountain," "Man's Fate," "A Passage to India," "The Plague," "The Sound and the Fury," "Swann's Way," "The Trial," "Ulysses," "U.S.A." and "Women in Love."

Bantam Classics, which made their debut at the newsstands and bookstores last month, have chalked up the impressive total of 150,000 books sold since the announcement of the first eight Bantam Classics titles was made. Best-seller so far? BRAVE NEW WORLD, Bantam Classic No. 1, which is included in Bergen Evans' list as one of the ten best novels of our time.

Speak With Ease

Language For Everybody by Dr. Mario Pei, is written by a man who most people regard with complete awe. He speaks four languages perfectly and speaks or understands more tongues than any living man.

During World War II, he created the 37-language course of War Linguistics at Columbia and collaborated with O.S.S. and O.W.I. in their language efforts connected with the war effort. He has written articles for many magazines, including a recent quick language mastery series for "Holiday" and is the author of a half-dozen books including Language For Everybody.

This book features a popular approach to the dynamics of all language—particularly as related to environment. In it, the author tells why we speak as we do, how to speak and write better, the best way to learn another language and the language laws that will help us most. The book's purpose is to enable the reader to live better and work and play more effectively through a better understanding of language.

Language For Everybody is a new comprehension of the spoken word—everybody's most necessary and frequently used accomplishment. Published by Pocket Books, Inc.

Poets and Poetry

A Concise Treasury of Great Poems, edited by Louis Untermeyer, is an original collection of English and American verse from its very beginning to the present time. More than 700 separate works of 100 authors are presented in groupings within a chronological framework. Interwoven are hundreds of exciting stories of the lives and times of the poets and interpretations of their works. Included are selections from Shakespeare, Keats, Shelley, Carl Sandburg, Robert Frost and Dylan Thomas to name just a few.

Louis Untermeyer is a distinguished and famous poet, critic and anthologist whose works can be found wherever books are read. In a CONCISE TREASURE OF GREAT POEMS he combines a lovely wit, sparkling wisdom and a great appreciation of the magic of poetry. Published by Pocket Books, Inc. ($5.00).

Bright Young Things

Emily and Amy, the two determinedly jaded young women whose efforts to have An Interesting Experience made "Love Me Little," Amanda Vail's first novel, one of the most piquant literary hors d'oeuvres of recent seasons, are again embarked on a dual pursuit of experience in "The Bright Young Things," published by Little, Brown and Company.

"There's love and there's love," says one of the Bright Young Things during an after-hours soiree in their college dormitory. "Exactly," responds Amy, "and what we are most likely to get is the latter." The week of Christmas vacation that brought the girls back from Northcliffe gave them their first opportunity. Amy scored first—her prize, their young teacher of creative writing at college, fell without organized resistance. William, his friend, was left to Emily. The discovery on her homecoming that her parents had separated threatened to crack Emily's facade of worldly innocence (or innocent worldliness.) She was in no mood to show mercy.

Whether she and Amy found love or love is the substance of "The Bright Young Things." From the now famous Victorian bric-a-brac shop called Perspicacity, to the Upbeat, a loft where beat poets read to cool jazz and cold customers, they pursue the aspects of love and varieties of experience in a fight that is sophisticated an exhilarating and genuinely tender.
